

Don't be afraid to make your marriage the center of your family's life. In many families, the children's activities have taken the place the marriage ought to occupy.