

Marriages either
move toward
communication,
connection and
intimacy or they move away from those things - they don't "stand still"
for very long